

Moving the B-1B from the restoration facility to the SDASM

Below are a series of pictures taken in 2004 when Team Ellsworth moved the B-1B from the restoration area to its current position of honor directly in front of the South Dakota Air and Space Museum.

